HAVAS AGENCY

Paris, 30th

An attempt was made yesterday to assassinate M. de Freycinet, Minister of Foreign Affairs, by an individual who discharged one chamber of a revolver at him happily without injury. The would-be-assassin was seized in the act. Political seem to have been the cause.

New York 30th.

General Maclean, who played an important part in the war of secession and was put forward as democratic candidate for the Presidency in 1864, died to-day.

PRESS TELEGRAMS.

Constantinople 29th.—At the War Office feverish activity prevails which is regarded as a conclusive proof that the Porte will take decisive and energetic steps, if the Powers fail to come to an arrangement respecting the Roumelian question.

An official report states that 180,000 armed and fully equipped soldiers have been concentrated on the most important points commanding an entrance to Roumelia. Reinforcements continue to arrive in great numbers.

London 29th.—Advice from St. Petersburg hint that Austria and Servia are concurring for an extension of their respective territories, heedless of Russian interests.

These statements must come from very trustworthy sources, since the Russian Government is actively engaged in secretly preparing in the event of any emergency, to assert and enforce its rights in the Balkan Peninsula.

Paris 29th.—Great indignation and excitement sway the public mind, in consequence of a dastardly attempt on the life of M. de Freycinet, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, on his return from a Cabinet Council, drove to the Foreign Office, where he was accosted by an unknown individual, who fired a revolver shot at him. The bullet missed him and the would-be assassin was caught before he had time to fire a second shot. The prisoner refused to make known his name, employment, or nationality. It is believed that he is an artisan of superior talents and of Italian extraction.

In an interview with a reporter, M. Ferry stated he thought that the only man capable of saving the situation of the country was M. Brisson, the actual President of the Cabinet, who would in all probability succeed in bringing about the union of the various republican divisions in the Chamber of Deputies.

M. Ferry opposed the separation of the State from the Church.

"What does M.D. after your name stand for, doctor?" asked young Mr. Holland. "It means 'Many dots,'" replied the physician, with a look that made Toofany forthwith feel his venerable little joke and feel that the doctor's bill had entered his soul. ## POSTAL UNION ACCOUNT.

A project has also been presented for the establishment of a Postal Union and the building of a prison. I should advise you to sanction the project, as it would meet a requirement much felt.

The Mining Code, not being completed in spite of my efforts to urge the writer to bring it to an end, was not presented on previous occasions, but I shall remit it to you during the present sessions, although I regret to state the injuriosities to whom bands and care the work has been entrusted, and the whole business.

This credit, as will be seen by the message from the Executive spring from the difference in the postal system of the Argentine Republic and the other countries included in the Postal Union of America.

In accordance with a well established rule since 1877 or 78, if I am rightly informed, the Post Offices of the respective countries coming under the action of this Union, send in a statement of the postal movement to the head administration, in Bern.

The head administration, having examined these statements, returns them indicating at the same time the difficulties which you will encounter in the carrying out of so serious and weighty an undertaking as the adoption of the codes, and, of course, to examine and discuss article by article what Congress would be not only an impossibility but an absurdity.

Everyone knows, from observation, that the Argentine Republic is the only one of the South American countries that has adopted a complete system of revised codes, unless the balance of the codes is impossible to be paid.

Only two days' quarantine will be imposed on vessels from Spain and France.

M. Boissman Langlade, Secretary of the French Legation here, has left for Europe.

The Suvi did not leave yesterday on account of the bad weather. She sails to-day. The Galicia has arrived from Brazil and Europe.

DR. WILDE'S REPORT.

The report of Dr. Wilde, Minister of Education, for the past year, is so ponderous and bulky, that its size must be accepted as our apology for not previously reviewing it. Ministerial reports, as a rule, are not very interesting to the general reader, yet in the "informe" before us there are subjects of interest to all classes.

To review a work of such great bulk it is necessary to subdivide the subjects into short chapters, the better to dwell on them, and extend, if necessary, on the Minister's remarks. H.E. begins with the administration of Justice, which, "in límine," he admits, is most defective, and we must compliment Dr. Wilde on the fair and straightforward manner in which he deals with the terrible defects which have been brought to light in our judicial system. Reformation so sweeping as that which the Minister proposes, will need much time to effect; indeed we believe it impossible to carry out such great changes in a generation, but Dr. Wilde may prepare the public mind for the abolition of forms, customs and trammals, that have come down to us from the period of Ferdinand and Isabella, and it affords us much pleasure to translate the Minister's vigorous remarks on this all important subject.

Respecting the administration of justice, I should like to call our readers' attention to the solemn fact that the ports of this Republic were closed against all Spain and one or two Mediterranean ports for several months in the current year, which was always a severe check to our immigration, which mainly springs from those contractions, but the measure was the main reason for not receiving the same amount of remittance as in previous years, which are susceptible of reform, once the law is in force. Not to sanction a law, because it is not perfect, is a serious error, which redounds to the detriment of the people. Laws are not eternal; each stage of social progress requires different laws from those of the preceding stage.

IMMIGRATION.

Mr. Aristides Almeida, of the Statistical Department, has issued the following official table, showing the arrival of immigrants from Europe month by month, in 1884 and 1885, which cannot fail to deeply interest us all, admitting, as we do, that immigration is the mainspring of all our progress and advancement.

It will be perceived by this statement that instead of immigration failing off, as one of our colleagues asserted, it is immensely on the increase, since in ten months of the present year we have an increase of 5973 immigrants over and above the sum total of the whole of the twelve months of 1884, which is a most truly gratifying picture.

The matter was then put to the vote and carried, so that the account will now be liquidated without further delay, and we may add that in all such clearing houses, whether for Post-Office or otherwise, it is usual that balances when struck are at once paid off, and not allowed to remain over from year to year as in the present case.

LONDON LETTER.

THE "FLADBURY" MANIFESTO.
(From our own Correspondent.)

We have not had long to wait for the confirmation of this view. Last night, at a great Liberal demonstration in South London, Mr. Chamberlain formally and virtually announced his secession from the Gladstonian clique. On the other hand the Argentine Republic is constantly telegraphing to know if she may draw the balances due her for two years. Our neighbor every right to assert its claims.

It is consequently in the name of the honor and responsibility of the Republic that the Committee advise you to sanction this project, the necessity of which is urgent and cannot be questioned.

The matter was then put to the vote and carried, so that the account will now be liquidated without further delay, and we may add that in all such clearing houses, whether for Post-Office or otherwise, it is usual that balances when struck are at once paid off, and not allowed to remain over from year to year as in the present case.

Proscriptions with full particulars on application.

EDITOR'S TABLE

Mr. Wilder offers the cheapest of all the lots of paving stones presented for the Lord Mayor's acceptance. Cheap and had. His Lordship is a far better judge of grottoes and Australian swans than he is of paving-stones, judging from the execrable millions of the latter he has allowed to be laid in the streets.

A New York exchange has the following mild fling at Tenbyson:—"Borden Tenbyson has fled from Farnsford, on the Isle of Wight, to Aldworth, near Haslemere, to give his wife the benefit of the Surrey Downs air. Lady Tenbyson is a confirmed invalid, and is almost as weak as her esteemed husband's poem on 'Spring.'

The Finance Minister will bring all the fair dames and damsels in town on his devoted head. He has just peremptorily refused to allow in free of duty a number of bazaar articles that have come out from Europe for the Damas de Beneficencia. No doubt H. E. has good reasons for his refusal.

There is joy among the "bourgeoisie." The Chief of Police has revoked his recent order against playing cards in cafes, and fat burghers and lean Bohemians can now shuffle the midnight paste-board without fear of the police before their eyes.

A porter of the National Chamber of Deputies was found prodded almost to death on Thursday night in Paseo Colón. He refused to open his lips about the matter, and it is surmised there was a lady in the case, and a rival.

The police broke into a gambling den at 262 Calle Cuyo last night, and seized 19 tempters of fortune, of all classes of society. There was the usual amusing scramble for escape, but it was no use.

The corps of an infant girl was found on the altar steps in San Ignacio church on Thursday morning before the first Mass commenced. Nobody yet knows how it came there.

The Finance Minister's declaration in Congress on Thursday that the Executive would oppose any increase in the Budget is a painfully grim joke.

A prodigious crowd is expected at the Opera House-to-night at the Spiritualistic seance to be given by Mr. Hernandez, to refute the recent lecture given by Professor Perot of the National College, who very bluntly and truly says that ghosts and spirits are only a humbug fit for old women of both sexes, and that Spiritualism is all pure gammon. Mr Hernandez ought to hire a medium, round up his departed "goblins damned" from Shool, and put some life into the thing. A lecture on Spirits is nothing. Let us have the Spirits themselves.

The Lord Mayor has made a nice mess of it in Plaza Lavalle with his pathway-leveling nonsense. During the recent rain all the houses on the south side of that Plaza were inundated on the ground floor. The same occurred in several other parts of the city. Is there no engineer responsible for this disgraceful and ridiculous blundering—or is Don Torquato his own engineer as well as his own grotto-designer?

The police hit 71 noted thieves now under lock and key, but who have been illegally arrested, as there is no specific charge against them. They were seized on the imaginary charge of having been drunk and disorderly during the inscription. The law should have some provision for dealing with habitual criminals.

We're awfully sorry to hear that "Our Dan" is on the broad of his back in England with typhoid fever. We sincerely hope he will soon recover.

A New York paper again!—"Beatrice's wardrobe of 300 new dresses is said to contain several of the Mother Hubbard pattern and it is surmised that the Empress will be soon sitting in the corner in one of em so soon as mother-in-law Victoria gets her hand well."

At a spiritual "seance" a woman desired to communicate with her dead husband. "Is it really such a dreadful place, John?" "Not at all; heaven is a delightful place." "Mr. Williamson, said the widow, turning to that personage, "you have called up the wrong party."

It was one of the old conventional scenes of the tragedian, in the days when tragedies were acted, to keep himself a little drawn back beyond the other actor, when not taking part in the scene, of which that was the case. The scene got together, it became amusing to see each trying to carry out this device at the other's expense. O'Keefe one night saw Macklin and Sheridan engaged in this little competition, and each retreating as their neighbour retired. They both presently found themselves driven up against the back scene.

Equal to the occasion—Lady (to whom) "Don't you think it is just like—?" "Boothmaker (promptly) "Oh, dear, m'm! If anything, it's—it's just a little the other way."

Notice:

I beg to advise my Customers and the Public in General that finding my Drapery Business increasing, and being unable to devote the requisite attention to the Grocery and Drapery business, I will give up the latter, and occupy the Premises with the extension of the Drapery business.

Will oblige by sending their accounts as soon as possible.

Taking this opportunity of thanking the public for past favours, hopeing to be still more worthy of them in the future.

I remain
